Transportation Services

Your product will be reliably delivered to your customers on time by our company owned fleet of late-model Kenworth tractors and flatbed trailers. Budway is the only transportation company in Southern California that can deliver up to 60,000-lb. payloads without special permits. In addition, through our internet-based reporting tools and GPS tracking system, you can see exactly where your products are en route to your destination and know exactly when your products will be delivered.
